

Science

Select one stage of human life and use the internet to research the physical and emotional changes a human faces during this time. Present your information in an engaging way.

Some ideas might include: a leaflet, a model, a video, a game on Scratch but you can come up with your own ideas too.