Day 10
Reading 1 hour	L.O. I am learning to use expression, pace and tone to perform a poem. You have been working hard to learn about the features of a poem and how to interpret and understand them. However, as well as understanding the language and thinking about the author's reasons for writing, it is also important to read the poem in the right way to create meaning. Before you practise reading your poem aloud, click on the link below to hear some top tips on performing poetry from Michael Rosen then click on the second link to watch Benjamin Zephaniah perform another of his many poems that he has written. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RvV23xoZRKI  https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-1DKCaR9OzQ When you are ready, use what you have learnt to practise reading your poem out loud and find someone to perform to at home when you feel confident.
Maths 1 hour	L.O: I am learning about mixed numbers. In this lesson, you will be introduced to mixed numbers and how to read, write and represent them. Click on the link below and complete the worksheets for this lesson as you go. https://classroom.thenational.academy/lessons/using-mixed-numbers-61hkad
