

Rida has hidden some counters in a bag.

$\frac{1}{2}$  of the number of counters is 12.

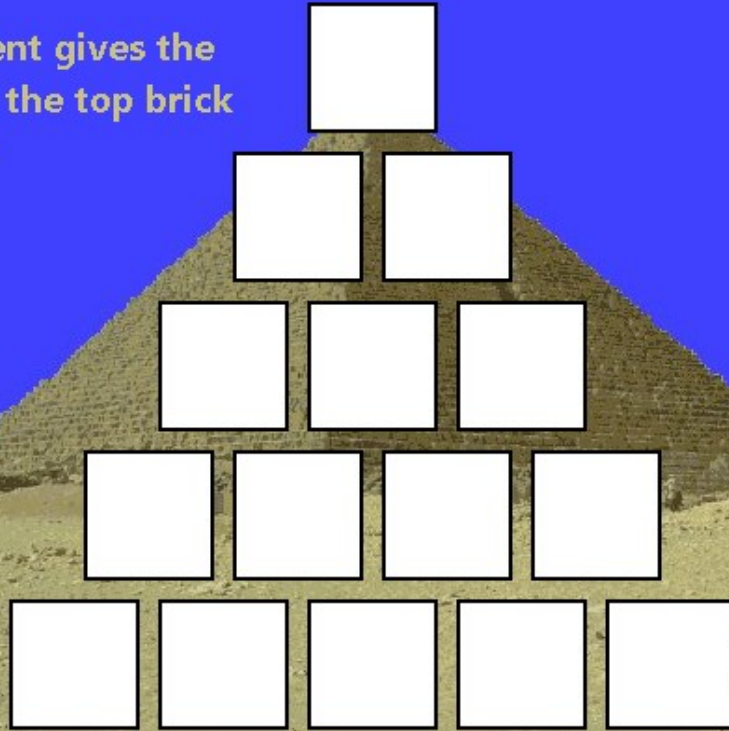

What is  $\frac{1}{3}$  of the number of counters in Rida's bag?

What is  $\frac{1}{4}$  of the number of counters in Rida's bag?

Put the numbers 1 to 5 in the bottom row of this pyramid. They can be arranged in any order. The numbers in the other bricks are found by adding the two bricks immediately below together. What arrangement of the numbers in the bottom row gives the largest total in the top brick of the pyramid?

What arrangement gives the smallest total in the top brick of the pyramid?

Complete the activity by re-writing the paragraph, filling in the gaps as you go with words from the word bank below.

The air was very _____ and dark. The moon looked _____ in the sky. Along the road through the _____, the highwayman was travelling to the _____. He looked very dashing in his _____, _____ coat and _____ trousers.

His horse _____ and _____ on the cobblestone and he _____ up to the windows to call for his beloved Bess. She was _____ while she waited for the highwayman to arrive.

Tim, the man who looked after the horses, heard the noise and _____ to the highwayman tell Bess he was _____ but would be back _____. If he cannot outrun his enemies, he will return by moonlight even if _____.

The highwayman kissed Bess goodbye and _____.

King George's men, who wanted to arrest the highwayman for robbery, arrived at the inn. After drinking _____, they _____ Bess and tied her to _____. They also pointed _____ at her body.

Sadly, when she saw the highwayman returning, she pulled the trigger and _____. The highwayman escaped but soon learned that Bess had killed herself. Seeking revenge, the highwayman returned to the inn and attacked the redcoats. They _____.

Apparently, when the air is a _____, the highwayman and Bess are reunited at the inn.

Missing Words

- "clashed"
- "old inn"
- "before the morning light"
- "warned him with her death"
- "ale"
- "gusty"
- "after a prize"
- "muskets"
- "hell should bar the way"
- "galloped away"
- "ghostly"
- "claret velvet"
- "plaiting a dark red love-knot"
- "torrent of darkness"
- "moor"
- "shot him down in the highway"
- "whistled"
- "French cocked hat"
- "gagged"
- "fine doe-skin"
- "clattered"
- "listened"
- "the foot of her narrow bed"

Check your work

The air was very "gusty" and dark. The moon looked "ghostly" in the sky. Along the road through the "moor", the highwayman was travelling to the "old inn". He looked very dashing in his "French cocked hat", "claret velvet" coat and "fine doe-skin" trousers.

His horse "clattered" and "clashed" on the cobblestone and he "whistled" up to the windows to call for his beloved Bess. She was "plaiting a dark red love-knot" while she waited for the highwayman to arrive.

Tim, the man who looked after the horses, heard the noise and "listened" to the highwayman tell Bess he was "after a prize" but would be back "before the morning light". If he cannot outrun his enemies, he will return by moonlight even if "hell should bar the way".

The highwayman kissed Bess goodbye and "galloped away".

King George's men, who wanted to arrest the highwayman for robbery, arrived at the inn. After drinking "ale", they "gagged" Bess and tied her to "the foot of her narrow bed". They also pointed "muskets" at her body.

Sadly, when she saw the highwayman returning, she pulled the trigger and "warned him with her death". The highwayman escaped but soon learned that Bess had killed herself. Seeking revenge, the highwayman returned to the inn and attacked the redcoats. They "shot him down in the highway".

Apparently, when the air is a "torrent of darkness", the highwayman and Bess are reunited at the inn.