

Imagine this...

It is June, 1944. You are a British soldier and have been bravely and tirelessly fighting for your country for years. During D-Day in Normandy, you managed to liberate (free) north-west Europe from German occupation but it's not over yet...

How do you feel?