

True

A rectangle has four right angles and two pairs of parallel lines. If all the sides are the same length, it is a square. If they aren't, we just call it a rectangle.