

Mr Evans sucked his teeth and his pale eyes bulged coldly. 'Oh no, not at all. Come and go as it suits you...'

What is the authorial intent and impact of using this word?

Feeling so frightened without quite knowing why, and Mr Evans's pale eyes boring into her, and no escape anywhere...

What is the authorial intent and impact of using this word?

'Have you been invited, though? My sister's house, isn't it? She invite you? That doesn't worry you, I suppose, since you've never seen her. And that suits Miss Green, doesn't it? To keep the poor soul shut away out of sight, out of mind!'

What is the authorial intent and impact of using this word?

Mr Evans said in an awful voice, 'A frivolous woman is an abomination in the sight of the Lord'.

Auntie Lou's smile vanished but she said, bravely, 'Do you like my blouse, Nick? It's the one my friend gave me when I went to stay with her. She gave me the lipstick too.'

What is the authorial intent and impact of using this word?